THE DOCK COMPANIES PROTEST.

They are in Tension the Strikers Refuse to Submit to the Terms of Agreement and Appeal to Cardinal Manning and the Lord Mayor—Other Foreign News.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—The directors of the dock companies have sent a protest to Cardinal Manning and the lord mayor, pointing out the cases of violence on the part of the strikers since the agreement for the settlement of the strike was arrived at, and stating that a number of the men are refusing to submit to the terms of the agreement. The directors ask the cardinal and the lord mayor to use their influence in the interest of peace.

Cardinal Manning and the lord mayor had a conference with the dock directors yesterday afternoon with reference to the complaints made by the directors that the strikers have not kept their agreement. The cardinal proposed the directors to exert the strikers to observe the agreement under which the strike was settled and particularly that the cause binding them not to molest the "blacklegs." The cardinal also said that the lord mayor and himself would issue a proclamation to the men warning them against rioting.

THE LEO LOST.

Abundant Evidence that the Vessel Went Down in Lake Erie.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 19.—That the steam yacht Leo, which sailed from La Grange for this port Sunday, was lost in a storm is certain. The Leo had nine on board and all perished. Since yesterday afternoon the beach in the western part of the city has been patrolled by the life saving crew and citizens. Two bodies were washed up. They were the battered remains of Con P. Ritter and R. D. Lawler, the latter a well known lawyer. The beach at the point where the bodies came ashore is but a narrow strip of sand backed by a high bluff and the heavy seas now rolling make it almost impossible for the searchers to venture down on the shore. In Lorain there is sorrow and desolation for the Leo's passengers were prominent men. The little town has sent out a large number of men to aid in the weary search. The Leo was a steam yacht about forty-five feet long. She was last seen about a half mile from shore at 7:30 Sunday night.

A OTHER DAM L TS GO,

And Considerable Damage is Done, But Nothing in the Nature of a Calamity.

READING, Pa., Sept. 19.—The large dam at Springton Forge, eight miles above Coatesville, burst during the night, owing to the continued heavy rain, and this morning the Brandywine creek had risen to an alarming height. Hundreds of fields were a dreary waste of water.

Many farmers and their families left their houses during the night and remained on the neighboring hills. The Wilmington and Northern railroad is not open between this city and Wilmington. Many miles of fences have been carried away, and on a number of farms everything not in buildings was carried away. The damage amounts to many thousands of dollars. At one time the Brandywine creek was eighteen feet above its usual height.

The Window Glass Wage Troubles.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 19.—The window glass wage trouble has not been settled and some interesting developments are expected before many days. Several of the manufacturers and workers are commenting on the matter and there is a great deal of dissatisfaction which may lead to the dissolution of the manufacturers' association, which has been in existence for many years. Pittsburgh manufacturers have an advantage over western glass men, who are compelled to use coal as fuel. Some of the Pittsburgh manufacturers must pay $30 per month per pot for gas, while others pay nothing, as they own their wells. The latter class, it is claimed, are the ones who urged a settlement.

They Will Stick Together.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—The glue manufacturers of the United States, who have an organization for mutual protection, held their fifth annual meeting here yesterday. The business transacted was of a routine nature. The officers for the coming year will be: President, W. N. Scott, of Boston; vice presidents, M. Delaney, of Philadelphia, and L. C. Haughay, of Pittsburgh; secretary, F. W. Tunnel, of Philadelphia; executive committee—George H. Webster of Chicago; King Upson, of Peabody, Mass.; R. W. Powell, of New York; W. H. Brown, of Peabody, Mass., and John Stricker, of Marietta, O.

Killed on a Railroad Crossing.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Frank Hanssen, of Avondale, Ill., and his companion, name unknown, were instantly killed about 9 o'clock last night, at the Belmont avenue crossing of the Northwestern road, in Gross park. They were driving west in a sulky and for some reason failed to see the southbound passenger train. Their horse was squarely on the track when the train struck them. The horse was instantly killed, the sulky smashed and the bodies of the men hurled at least a hundred feet from the crossing.

Sentence Commuted.

DEER PARK, Md., Sept. 19.—President Harrison has commuted the sentence of W. D. Spearman, district of South Carolina, convicted of violating internal revenue laws, to nine months. He was sentenced in February, 1889, to twelve months' imprisonment. The sentence of Dr. Burk Priddy, eastern district of Tennessee, convicted of violating the pension laws, was commuted to one year. He was sentenced in April, 1889, to two years' imprisonment.

Arrested for Burning a Church.

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 19.—The News' special from Anancock, Va., says: John Burton was arrested to-day, charged with arson. The church at Belhaven was burned Saturday. Burton had collected a considerable sum of money for improvements to the edifice, which he says was lost in the fire. It is supposed that Burton set the church on fire to trump up an excuse for not turning over the money to the trustees.

Arrested for Burning a Church.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Sept. 19.—A provision stipulating that every voter shall be able to read the document framed by the constitutional convention, now in session, was adopted by that body yesterday. The apportionment chapter was the subject of much argument. A suggestion that each county have one state senator only was voted down.

Starving Sailors Rescued.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 19.—The steamer Statesman, from Liverpool, brought here the captain and eleven men of the bark Nobreza, which was disabled in a hurricane Sept. 11. The crew had been six days without water and were in danger of starvation when taken off the wreck.

Building War Vessels.

Such Work Will Hereafter Be Done by the Government.

IT IS SO DECIDED BY MR. TRACY.

The Bids of Private Parties Do Not Come Within the Limits of the Appropriations—Designs for the New Postal Cards—Other Dispatches from Washington.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Secretary Tracy has made a decision that will have an important bearing on the future building of war vessels for the United States navy. He decided to have the two 3,000-ton steel cruisers provided for by the last congress, constructed at the New York and Norfolk navy yards.

When bids for these two vessels were opened at the navy department last month all the bids offered exceeded by large amounts the congressional appropriations.

The navy department found itself in something of a dilemma. It could not accept the bids and it could not afford to wait until congress could take action. So Secretary Tracy invited suggestions from ship-building firms, asking them to give opinions as to possible change in the plans of the vessels to bring the cost of their construction within the appropriation and yet not impair the standard required.

Cramp & Sons, of Philadelphia, found that they could construct the vessel, with some changes, at an amount of $40,000 below their original bid. This reduced amount, however, was greater than the appropriation, and the secretary came to the forced conclusion that the vessels could not be built at private yards.

Speaking of the matter to a United Press reporter he said: "After a careful study of the law relating to these vessels, I find that after other means have failed, I am told in language almost in the nature of a command to build them at government yards, and this I have decided to do."

The hull of one of the vessels will be built at Norfolk, and that of the other at New York. The machinery of both vessels will be built at New York, while the boilers of each will be made at the place where each vessel is being constructed. Work will probably begin early in the spring. Of the other vessels to be built in the near future it is almost certain that one will go to the Mare Island navy yard.

Designs for Postal Cards.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Postmaster General Wanamaker has invited proposals from artists, designers and others for improved designs of postal cards. The designs should be according to the artist's idea of fitness and bidders can submit one or more designs as he sees fit. Drawing in detail of designs must be submitted with bids, which are to be opened in the office of the third assistant postmaster general at noon on Wednesday, Nov. 6.

The designs may be made either with or without border, and if with border the border may be either plain or ornate. The postal cards for which the designs are intended are of two sizes, viz: 2 1/2-15 inches by 4 5/8 inches, and 3 3/4 by 6 1/2 inches. Blank forms of proposals with specifications containing information can be had by applying to the office of the third assistant postmaster general.

Brilliant New-paper Men.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—A dispatch from Deer Park quoting a friend of the president as saying that Maj. William Warner may accept the position of commissioner of pensions gains no credit here. Maj. Warner told the president that his reason for declining was that he had many certain business engagements which he felt in honor bound to fill. He recommended the appointment of Maj. George S. Merrill, of Massachusetts, and he left Deer Park with the impression that the place would be tendered to Maj. Merrill. The president is naturally anxious that Maj. Warner's position should not be made public until the vacant place has been filled. Every effort was made to conceal the fact that the position had been offered Maj. Warner, a fact first published in the dispatches of the United Press.

Ministers' Meeting.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sept. 19.—Ministers from all parts of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Wisconsin, New York, Iowa and Minnesota are present here to attend the tenth convention of the Welsh Presbyterian churches of the United States. Yesterday afternoon the session was opened with public service. Sermons were preached by Rev. John A. Jones, of Oshkosh, Wis., and Rev. Richard Humphrey, of Long Creek, O. The session will be continued for several days.

A Reception to Ben. Butterworth.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—In accordance with resolutions adopted by the Ohio Republican association, arrangements are being made to give Representative Butterworth a reception in this city on his return from Europe the latter part of this week. It is proposed to obtain one of the large theaters to guard against the inclement weather and in order that ladies may be provided for.

Arrested While Praying.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 19.—Rev. S. H. Crouch, a Methodist minister of this city, who recently forged drafts amounting to several hundred dollars, was arrested while making a prayer at a camp meeting about ten miles east of here, last night. He was brought to this city and placed in jail.

Site for the World's Fair.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The world's fair site committee are understood to favor the selection of the 425 acres, including the northern part of Central Park, from Ninety-sixth to One Hundred and Tenth streets, the vacant land north of the park between Fifth and Eighth avenues, all of Morningside Park, part of the Bloomingdale side and all or part of Riverside Park.

THE PARIS EXPOSITION.

It May Become a Permanent Institution. Some Curious Toys.

PARIS, Sept. 19.—The exposition is too good a thing to be confined to its original limits. Its success has surpassed all expectation, and the shopkeepers of Paris are loath to let it go. The proposal now is that it shall remain a permanent institution of the country and the world. Once a year it is proposed that there shall be a world's fair for a month or more. It is entirely possible that the Paris fair may become a recognized institution of Europe to which all the world will resort.

While the great world is occupied with games of politics and money making and intrigue, the child world of Europe is fairly wild over the display of toys at the exposition. The prettiest scene at that vast establishment is that in which one hears the perpetual ripple of childish laughter and observes the innumerable signs of childish delight at the wondrous ingenuity of the display. Everybody has seen the toy soldiers, but whoever before saw a toy army in which every soldier really march on his own legs, and in which real attacks and defenses are conducted amid the rattling discharge of real guns? Toy ships are common enough, but who ever before saw a toy fleet of ironclads and torpedo boats actually maneuvering as if engaged in a real battle?

It is something to see a Lilliputian creature stretch out her arms to the visitor with a smile as if to ask her to become the mother of an orphan doll. It is funny to see the puppelet deliberately take a hand glass, carefully inspect her image and smooth her hair, smile complacently and then, as she lays the glass down, throw a kiss to the audience with her delicate fingers.

The toy boy grows up badly. One is an inveterate smoker of cigarettes. He puts the poisonous delight between his own lips, lights it, draws in a deep inspiration, as if thoroughly enjoying the aroma, and then slowly expels the smoke in graceful curves around his own exquisitely curled hair. Far less reprehensible is the baby which does all—or nearly all—that a sure-enough baby could be expected to do. This infant has a good, healthy appetite and tugs away at her milk bottle with results that are astonishing.

BRIDE OF TWO WEEKS SUICIDES. The Husband Says It Was Purely Unintentional.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 19.—Yesterday afternoon Emmett R. Wilson ran into a doctor's office near his residence and called for assistance, saying that his wife had shot herself. When the physician accompanied him to his room he found the woman dead, a bullet from a pistol lying near her having passed through her heart.

Wilson said that he was cleaning his revolver and thought he had taken all the cartridges out. His wife asked to see the pistol and he handed it to her, at the same time throwing the cartridges into her lap. She placed the muzzle of the revolver to her heart and pulled the trigger with her thumb, and he was terrified to hear the pistol explode and see her fall to the door. When an examination was made it was found that her clothing was powder burned, showing that she pistol had been held against her.

The couple were married just two weeks ago, and the husband says that she had no reason to commit suicide. He believes that the shooting was purely accidental, he and his wife both supposing that all the cartridges had been taken out. The coroner began an investigation immediately, but nothing was elicited to show that the death occurred contrary to the statement of the husband. The police have taken no steps in the matter, and are uncertain what to do.

ODD FELLOWS PARADE.

Twenty Thousand Men in Line and a Very Impressive Affair.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 19.—The grand parade of the I. O. O. F. and Patriarchs Militant yesterday afternoon, was two and a half hours in passing, and the number of men in line exceeded 20,000, being divided into three divisions with a large military array, among whom were the Montgomery, Ala., Grays, Loyal Legion, 200, of Louisville, and Toledo Cadets. It was the grandest demonstration in numbers and eclat that order ever had in America.

Last night the conferring of the "Decoration of Chivalry" took place at the city hall, followed by a grand ball in honor of the Sovereign Grand Lodge.

The daughters of Rebekah perfected a National permanent organization. The following officers were chosen: President, Mrs. M. E. Rea, REPUBLICAN editors can now let up awhile on the "race riots" in the South and talk about the one in Illinois a few days ago. But will they do so?

TO THOSE who think that Kentucky is short of funds we will say that she has over $300,000 subject to check and that it is "still'er coming."—Stanford Journal.

THE VOTE of eighty-five counties on the question of calling a constitutional convention shows a majority of 23,652 in favor of the move. The count is still in progress.

THE tragic ending of the prize fight at St. Louis should put an end to all such "sport." Ahearn should spend the rest of his days within penitentiary walls for the brutal killing of his opponent.

GOVERNOR FORAKER wants some man placed at the head of the Pension office "who will carry on business in the same style as Tanner." President Harrison thinks the country has had enough of Tannerism.

PEOPLE who responded to the appeal for aid from Johnstown have the satisfaction of knowing that they contributed to the largest relief fund ever raised in this country, and in the world, perhaps. The official statement places it at $2,500,000.

THE NATIONAL G. A. R. Encampment at the recent session in Milwaukee adopted resolutions thanking President Harrison for appointing Tanner Commissioner of Pensions. It remains to be seen whether the order will turn about now and denounce the President for firing the Little Corporal.

HON. J. A. MCKENZIE says he is not a candidate for U. S. Senator. He would like to have the honor, but he thinks the office is one of such dignity and importance that it should seek the man. If he continues in that frame of mind we fear he will never be Senator. In these degenerate days, it's a poor office that has to seek the man.

THE Lewis County teachers want a law to make local taxation obligatory instead of optional. All that is needed in Kentucky to give her one of the best school systems in the land is a law like that. The State fund should be supplemented by a local tax. We favor such a law, and hope to see an act of that kind passed by the next Legislature.

IN its talk about Kentucky's new lawmakers, the Carlisle Mercury says: "Dr. John M. Fraze, of Mason, was never a politician, and his entrance into political life was a surprise to him. He was educated for a physician, but of late years has turned his attention to mercantilism and trading. He is one of the most successful tobacco and grain dealers in Maysville. He was nominated and elected without opposition, and with scarcely a word on his part. He is a man of family and about fifty years old."

THE Christian Inquirer, of New York, is a little more candid than many Republican journals. It says:

"We think it is very bad taste for papers of other parties to criticise the course of Mr. Wanamaker in raising money to assist in the election of Mr. Harrison. He did an honest thing in a manly way. If he was rewarded for it, it was only fair."

THE COURIER-JOURNAL says: "Mr. Wanamaker raised $400,000 at the request of Quay, the apostle of 'Boodle.' Mr. Wanamaker stated that he did not wish to know what was done with the money, an admission that he expected it to be used to corrupt the ballot. This is called doing an 'honest' thing in a manly way" by a paper that calls itself 'Christian.' Of the too numerous examples of 'stealing the livery of heaven to serve the devil in' there is none more flagrant than this."

PRIVATE DALZELL is furious over the removal of Tanner from the Pension Office. In an interview published in the New York Herald he says:

If his (Tanner's) crime is that he is not an aristocrat with a pedigree, a martinet with a title, or a millionaire with a million-million men who wore, like him, the private blouse, will condemn and avenge his decapitation. If his fault is that he was too liberal toward the soldiers, it will and should destroy the Republican party, for it obtained power alone by promises of increased and unmeasured liberality in pensions.

He thinks the privates have been betrayed in the house of their friends and their reply will be reckoned by "averaging ballots at the polls." Upon those who were at the bottom of Tanner's removal, Dalzell pronounces "a curse, a blighting, withering, damning, lasting, blasting curse of the rank and file." The President hasn't heard the last of his Pension Commissioner. He was warned not to give Tanner the position, but he heeded not the advice, and he no doubt bitterly regrets now that he ever heard of the Little Corporal.

Stock and Crops.

The tobacco in the vicinity of Cynthiana is said to be the heaviest ever handled there.

In Scott County cattle for fall feeding are reported plentiful, and are bringing from 3½ to 3¾ cents per pound.

Messrs. Kirk & Clift shipped from Lewisburg this week five car-loads of cattle to N. Lehman & Bro., of Baltimore. There were about fifty head. Five of the largest averaged 1,900 pounds in weight. Two car-loads averaged 1,802 pounds, and three car-loads averaged 1,722½ pounds. How is that for old Mason? The shipment was one of the finest ever sent out of the county.

Says the Winchester Democrat: "This time last year scarcely a fat bullock could be found in Clark County that was fit for the export market. All had been shipped and at a price a cent to a cent and a half per pound higher than can now be realized for the best. Up to the present time, not two hundred of that class have gone, and more than 3,000 remain."

Buyers are almost ashamed to offer even the best price the market justifies and holders are loth to sell at figures that mean certain loss."

Old Settlers' Reunion.

The second annual reunion of the old settlers of Lewis, Fleming and Mason counties will be held at Ruggles' Camp Grounds, Saturday, October 5, 1889.

EVERYBODY invited. Those who have pioneer relics are requested to bring them for exhibition to the young folks, and all who can will please bring well-filled baskets, that the crowd may have plenty to eat.

REV. I. A. Thayer, of Maysville, will deliver an address, and Hon. W. H. Wadsworth will be present, if possible.

The following constitute the committee of arrangements: Lewis County—J. Mat Tolle, James Means, A. D. Pollitt, W. D. Hendrickson, A. D. Tolte and W. C. Halbert. Mason County—R. B. Lovel, Henry C. Barkley, Fleming County—Dr. John C. Waugh and John Ring.

A. D. OWENS, President.

C. C. DEGMAN, Secretary.

THE Quarterly Bulletin, the official organ of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers, in a recent issue says: "Manufacturers would be justified in insisting that the low-grade carpet wool shall go on the free list." This is a straw showing that the wool manufacturers are drifting around to the Democratic position on the tariff question.

NEW YORK—Money 4@4½ per cent.

Currency sixes, 118 bid; four coupons 128;

four-and-halves, 105½ bid.

The stock market opened firm with the first prices showing fractional advances in most instances. Northern Pacific was again the feature of the dealings during the first hour. It opened at 1 per cent. higher at 75½ and further advanced to 76½. Tennessee coal was also strong and advanced 1 per cent. to 47½. The changes in the other stocks were confined to narrow limits, but the general tendency was upward. In the hour to noon there was a decided change in the temper of speculation, so far as Northern Pacific was concerned. It was heavily sold and its price dropped back to below the opening figures by noon. The rest of the list was weak in sympathy and declined a trifle. At this writing the market is dull and featureless.

BRUNNER'S DEATH.

Relatives Not Satisfied it Was Accidental—Will the Mystery be Solved?

Some days ago the body of Henry Brunner, one of the prominent citizens of Georgetown, O., was found at the "fishing shore" a few miles below Ripley, mention of which was made at the time. The inquest developed the fact that his skull was fractured in two places. He had taken passage on the Bonanza at Maysville a few evenings before, and the supposition was that he fell overboard and was struck by the wheel and killed. On examining the papers found on his person, two five-dollar bills and one ten-dollar bill was found in a letter in his pocket, making $21.10 in money altogether. His watch stopped running at 27 minutes before 9 o'clock.

His relatives are not altogether satisfied that he met his death accidentally, and have engaged parties to give the matter a thorough investigation. A gentleman was in Maysville yesterday working on the case. It has been learned that Brunner boarded the Bonanza here and took passage for Ripley. Before the boat arrived at Ripley, however, he concluded to go through to Augusta, and had his ticket changed and paid the additional fare. The clerk of the steamer remembered this distinctly, and he is corroborated by Captain Moore, who was in the office at the time. The boat's register for that evening shows that Mr. Brunner was the only passenger for Augusta. Did he get off at Augusta? The porter of the Bonanza—a colored man—says he did. He is confident a man answering Brunner's description left the boat at the Augusta wharf. The body was found in the river five or six miles above Augusta. The question is, how did it get there, if he went through to Augusta?

Captain Moore is satisfied the fractures of the skull were not produced by the boat's wheel. The skin was bruised very little, and Captain Moore thinks the head would have been crushed if the wheel had struck it, and further that if Brunner met his death accidentally he must have fallen from the upper to the lower deck, striking on his head, and then into the river. If this happened it is singular no one saw it.

Relatives are determined to sift the matter to the bottom, but it is likely the mystery as to the manner of his death will never be solved.

The Railway World.

General Manager Harahan's pet idea is to make the C & O. road-bed the finest in America.

The Pennsylvania Company has completed the fine railroad bridge over the Ohio river at Steubenville. The bridge consists of seven open spans, each 232 feet long, and one channel span 312 feet long, making the bridge 1,936 feet in length from abutment to abutment.

The new owners of the Chattahoochee Road have changed the name to the Ohio and Big Sandy. The following directors have been elected to serve during the ensuing year: B. W. Foster, Ely Ensign and W. E. Parsons, of Huntington, W. Va.; J. D. Yarrington and J. P. Nelson, of Lexington, Ky., and Edward H. Pardee and J. Stuart Mackie, of New York. B. W. Foster is President; J. S. Mackie is Vice President; E. St. John, of New York, Secretary, and Colonel Jay H. Northup, Superintendent.

The County Court at Versailles has issued to the Louisville Southern bonds of the county for $60,000. Of this amount, $15,000 was balance of subscription to the Versailles and Midway Railway, and $45,000 subscribed in aid of the road to Lexington. In all, $95,000 have been issued, of which $5,000 was paid last year and $5,000 is provided for out of the levy of the present year. The railroad debt of Woodford County is now $85,000, of which $40,000 is payable in sums of $5,000 annually at 6 per cent., and $45,000 in thirty years at 5 per cent., with the privilege of paying them off any time after seven years.

THE ONE PRICE SYSTEM

Ever since the beginning of MINER'S SHOE STORE. Over fifty years ago, the One Price principle has been strictly adhered to. It is one of the bright features of our business. That it is the fairest, squarest and most satisfactory in all respects, every buyer will admit.

Another thing in this connection: Where one price is the rule, of necessity it means the very lowest cash price; the two are inseparably connected. Think this over and see if the statement is not correct. As a measure of good faith, we mark everything in plain figures, that "He who runs may read."
